

WHO WE SERVE

Clients at Mid-Missouri Mental Health Center (MMMHC) represent all socio-economic groups, races, religions, educational levels and age groups. These are people with special needs — people who have difficulty living in the everyday world and adjusting to the demands of their environment. Some may temporarily find themselves in a life-threatening crisis. Others may have mental health problems which threaten their ability to work, maintain a relationship, or live on their own, and cannot access the care they need.

Since MMMHC is a short-term, intensive treatment center, it can treat only clients who are able to respond to treatment within a short period of time. With individualized intensive treatment by the psychiatric team, most clients are able to receive treatment and return to their communities within a short period. The average length of stay for adults is approximately 11 days and for children is approximately 8 days.
